Snow slide strands 22 near South Hills camp

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

ROCK CREEK (Twin Falls County) — Twenty-two persons including a number of children spent Sunday night in the South Hills, marooned behind a snow slide and unable to get word out to families as to their predicament.

Sheriff's officers received a call about 1 a.m. after Wayne

Murphy and Bill Skinner rode a snowmobile as far down the canyon as the snow depth would permit and then walked to the first ranch with a telephone, a distance of several miles. They telephoned a "Mr. Erickson" in Twin Falls who notified the sheriff's office.

By that time several families had reported members who had gone snowmobiling in the South

Hills had failed to return. Lewis Munson, forest ranger for the Twin Falls District, said apparently all were in good condition as they were able to find shelter in the Murphy cabin near the snowmobile area. They were given limited food supplies from the U.S. Forest Service ranger buildings.

Claude Jones, owner of Magic Mountain Ski resort, said there were no skiers in the marooned group as all skiers had cleared the area by 10 a.m. Sunday morning.

The slide is reported about one-half mile below the ski resort in the vicinity of the Penstemon Picnic area and the region used in the winter months for tubing and tobogganing. No vehicles were trapped in the slide, officials said.

Paul Welch, who owns a bulldozer at the ski resort, and Jones, who also has a smaller dozer at the area, were en route to the slide area early Monday as were highway crews. It was believed they would be able to cut a path through the slide within a few hours, although Munson said he did not know the depth or width of the slide.

Telephone service to the area was out of order as it has been throughout the winter, making it impossible for those marooned to call out.

Robert Hulse, forest service staff officer, said the telephone line is difficult to maintain in winter months because of weather and the nature of the single line construction. He said it is evident the forest service should make some other arrangements for communication but radio is also difficult because of having to bounce the signal from a repeater station at a higher elevation. This system is used in the summer time season but discontinued in the winter months.

He said telephone company crews assisted in trying to improve the line last summer but it went out again with winter weather.

Arch F. Lundy, forest employee, who remains at the area during the winter, was planning to meet the bulldozer operator at the slide and take him to the ski area to pick up the bulldozer.

Sheriff's officers and forest service officials stressed there is no danger to those waiting behind the slide and it is only a matter of the time it will take to make a path through the snow.

Lundy said there was about one and one half feet of new heavy snow at the ski area as a result of the storm which began Friday and has continued throughout the weekend. He said it was still snowing at the area Monday morning.

Flooding closes Murtaugh schools

MURTAUGH — School personnel at Murtaugh were working today to clean up flooding which occurred over the weekend at the Murtaugh High School.

Both the high school and the grade school were closed today, but Supt. Florin Hulse said school would be in session Tuesday.

He said the flooding, caused by a water back-up in the sewer system, could have caused extensive damage if it had not been discovered shortly after the back-up occurred.

He said water apparently was forced back through drains in the basement about 5 p.m. Saturday. He discovered the problem at about 6 p.m. Saturday. About an inch of water was in the furnace room and the lunch room.

Hulse said the gymnasium, home economics, science and faculty rooms also are on the second floor, but most were not flooded.

The only damage which Hulse believed was caused by the flooding was to some books and material stored on the floor.

Plane, 3 men lost

By RUTH MILLER

Times-News Staff Writer
JACKPOT — A search was being made today for a light aircraft with three men on board which is overdue on a flight from Jackpot to Hailey.

Chet Moulton, Idaho director of aeronautics, said the plane took off in a snowstorm at 5:45 p.m. Sunday from Jackpot. The pilot, Mr. Clayton Duffy, age unknown, Bellevue, reportedly, telephoned his wife prior to take off and told her he expected to land at Friedman Memorial Airport at Hailey about 9 p.m.

Moulton said others on board the PA 25-140 Cherokee were Duffy's son, Carson Duffy, a student at Boise State College, and Howard Simms, about 50, Salmon, a passenger picked up at Jackpot.

Bill Schaefer, who manages the Jackpot Airport, told Moulton he watched the small plane leaving Jackpot for about 35 minutes before it disappeared to the southeast. Moulton said a Boise motorist reported this morning that he was caught in a sudden squall miles north of Jackpot. He said the wind blew hard enough it turned his vehicle around in the road. As he was spinning around, the motorist reported, he observed a small aircraft circling in apparent attempt to turn south.

Moulton said others from Burley and Twin Falls have been requested to fly the area in an attempt to locate the white plane which has an orange stripe on it. He said because of weather conditions in the area Monday morning, however, the search is being conducted on a limited basis and only by those pilots who have the experience and training necessary to carry on such a search.

Warren Barry, Twin Falls, and Paul Kalbfleisch, Pifer, flying separate planes, were among those searching Monday. They reported an icy rain falling in the search area.

Duffy and his son reportedly spent Saturday night at Elko and landed in Jackpot Sunday on route to Hailey.

Moulton said there are no leads in the search.

"We'll drown him."

environment, to our economy and to our social fabric," he said.

First Democrat to be elected governor in 26 years, Andrus spoke to the Republican-controlled Legislature one hour after it convened for its first regular session.

He outlined what he meant a week ago when he called in his inaugural address for a "grand alliance" to improve and preserve the "quality of life" in Idaho. But he made it clear the state must recognize the world is in a "period of anxiety and uncertainty" with wars abroad and crises at home.

"Idaho is but a cork on these storm-tossed waters," Andrus conceded. "But we, too, are the victims of simultaneous inflation and recession."

We, too, have had to cope with the problem of mounting unemployment, particularly in the northern part of the state,"

he said. "And we, too, have had a taste of the spectre of environmental degradation."

With this background, Andrus then offered these proposals for change in Idaho government, the services it performs and the laws by which it governs:

— Cut back the local government's share of sales taxes under the inventory tax phase-out law to 15 per cent from 20, leaving an additional $2.3 million available for the general fund next year.

— Implement a statewide,

state-funded but voluntary system of public kindergartens within the next school year by adjusting "spending priorities" and without increasing taxes.

— Turn the "goat trail" linking the northern and southern portions of the state into an "expressway" to serve the of property, making it possible to tax a home at a lesser rate than income property.

— Raise workman's compensation benefits to reflect the current costs of living, bring the minimum wage law into conformity with federal standards and stand fast against "right-to-work" legislation.

— Rebuild and revitalize the

Chancey elected chairman

TWIN FALLS — William Chancey, second commission district, was sworn in Monday morning as the new chairman of the board of county commissioners.

He succeeds Huber Loughmiller, who has served as chairman the past four years and as a member of the three-man commission the past six years. Loughmiller said he believes the chairmanship should be passed around to give all members an opportunity to share the responsibility. Morris W. Carlson, retiring commission member, previously served as chairman.

Chancey has served on the commission four years and is starting the last two years of his present term. He was unanimously elected by the board. The other member is Merle Leonard, newly elected to fill the vacancy of Carlson.

In other ceremonies Monday morning to begin the new year,

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS: Leonard and Leon Smith, prosecuting attorney, were sworn in as new county officials. Those receiving the oath of office as re-elected county officials included Marion Lancaster, clerk and recorder. Lancaster was sworn in first and in turn administered the oath of office to other county officials.

Others re-elected include Clifford Thompson, County Coroner; Clovey Edwards, County Treasurer Ruth K. Jones, and two new county magistrates, Daniel Meehl and Reed P. Maughan.

Chancey said he doesn't plan any changes in policy as county commission chairman but hopes the commission will be able to continue the good county government of the past.

One of the major tasks for Twin Falls County officials and those of other counties was the Monday morning switch to magistrate court operation.

Clerks of the former probate court and justice courts were working with judges and magistrates Monday to convert to the new system which involves transferring files and records as well as court funds.

Twin Falls city police court which closed officially Monday transferred some 60 active cases to the magistrate court and justice and probate courts which have been pushing for several weeks to clear as many cases as possible also expected to have many to be transferred.

JoAnne clings to life

SALT LAKE CITY — Tiny premature Jo Anne Springer, lone survivor of quadruplets born to Mr. and Mrs. William Springer, Twin Falls, Friday remained in critical condition in the University of Utah Medical Center here Monday and was described as "unchanged" by hospital attendants.

She was flown to Salt Lake City Saturday after the deaths of her three sisters. Doctors said the three died of hyaline membrane disease which developed several hours after a healthy birth.

The four were delivered Friday in St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome. The mother, Mrs. Joy Springer, in good condition, was released from the hospital Sunday.

Dr. James Sloat, who attended Mrs. Springer, said he also delivered triplets born in 1952 in Jerome, the most recent multiple birth, aside from twins, on record in Jerome prior to the Friday arrival of the four little girls.

Funeral services for the three babies are pending at St. Benedict's Hospital in Jerome.

Pair kidney cases

MALTA — Mrs. Grant Beyler, 37, and her son, Michael Beyler, 16, are among four kidney transplant cases at the University of Utah Medical Center, Salt Lake City.

This makes the second kidney transplant in two years for Michael, reports Lee Beyler, grandfather of the youth.

Michael received a live kidney transplant two years ago from his father, but that kidney had to be removed last summer after a block developed.

The youth has been in university hospital most of the time since last summer and has been using a kidney machine, said Beyler.

Fish fry slated by ski patrol

BURLEY — The Pomerelle Ski Patrol will have its annual fish fry Friday at the Ponderosa Inn Convention Center. A social hour is planned from 7 to 8 p.m., and the filet-trout dinner will be served at 8 p.m. A one-hour ski film will be shown following dinner.

The public is invited to attend and proceeds will be used to purchase first aid supplies and equipment for the Ski Patrol.

Nixon's assistance plan hit

BOISE (UPI) — The Nixon administration's Family Assistance Plan was criticized for being unrealistic in its concept to train welfare recipients Saturday by Public Assistance Commissioner Bill Child.

He told the finance-appropriations committee a department to adequately train welfare recipients should be separate from the welfare program.

He said it is not practical to say thousands of people on welfare can be trained for a job when six to seven per cent of the labor force is unemployed.

The plan passed the House in the 91st Congress but was held up in the Senate.

"This nation has done nothing fundamental in removing the causes of poverty and dependency, and I don't think the family assistance plan does this," Child said.

He said Congress should provide for the relocation of persons with employment potential from areas where jobs are unavailable to areas where employment can be found.

Police vehicle damaged

TWIN FALLS — Several hundred dollars worth of damage was done to a Twin Falls City Police vehicle in an accident early Saturday.

Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers who investigated the mishap, said the 1968 sedan operated by Patrolman Frank Lara went out of control and skidded on a slick street.

Lara said he was attempting to avoid a collision at Second Street North and Ninth Avenue North when the accident occurred and his vehicle struck a utility pole. Lara was not injured.

Meat pack okayed

BOISE (UPI) — A contract providing for a 60 per cent hour raise over the next three years is part of a compromise settlement between five Boise Valley meat packing plants and meat cutters' and butchers' unions made Saturday.

The new contract was ratified by the about 80 meatcutters involved in the dispute which began Nov. 1 between the employers and local 368 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America, AFL-CIO.

Approving the contract were members of the local at H.H. Klein Co., Nampa; Boise Valley Packing Co., Eagle; Davis Packing Co., and Gem Meat Co. and Van's Packing Plant, Garden City. Not included in the settlement was Wells and Davis, Inc., Payette.

Federal mediator Gene Roche, Salt Lake City, recommended the compromise settlement during sessions Saturday morning.

Workers will return to work Monday on a seniority basis, but spokesman said it may be sometime before all are at work again.

Classes for nurses aides scheduled

BOISE (UPI) — A nurse aide class will begin Tuesday at Cassia Memorial Hospital, according to Mrs. Ann Christian, secretary to the administrator.

There are openings for eight students in the class and the sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Carma Redford, RN, in-service director at the hospital. The course will run for eight weeks and there is no charge for the course.

Applicants must be high school graduates, and applications are to be filed with Mrs. Christian.

Upon completion of the nurses aide course aides will be eligible for employment at the hospital.

Jail term remitted

TWIN FALLS — The remainder of a county jail sentence being served by a Jerome man convicted of a drug violation was remitted Friday by Fifth District Court Judge Thordan Ward.

The motion for remittance was entered by the attorney for Dennis Tubbs, 21, Golden Bennett, law firm, Twin Falls, told Judge Ward his client is planning to register for the second semester at the College of Southern Idaho.

Judge Ward granted the remittance, provided Tubbs serves a successful probation, including maintenance of a C average in college.

He was convicted on a charge brought by Twin Falls Police and has been incarcerated at the Twin Falls County Jail.

The Real Test Comes Soon

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The next U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam beyond May 1 very likely will be handled by President Nixon in a more gingerly, shorter-term fashion than marked the sweeping 1970-71 pullouts.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird's early January visit to South Vietnam begins the review process that will reduce recommendations for the White House. The Joint Chiefs of Staff and high State Department officials later will have their proposals cranked in.

If the President follows form, he probably will make up his own mind until a day or two before his chosen spring deadline for a now announcement. Undoubtedly, he will have the advice of aide Henry Kissinger at the moment of decision.

By May 1, assuming the existing pullout schedule is kept, our forces in Vietnam will be down to 245,000, with most but considerably less than all ground combat forces withdrawn. Which units in what size leave after that can be critical to the final Vietnam outcome. The "real test" of "Vietnamization" will be at hand, when Saigon's 1.1-million man army finds itself with severely diminished U.S. ground combat support.

U.S. decision-makers will not be operating totally blind. If Hanoi makes an expected Tet assault in Cambodia this month and South Vietnam moves sizable forces to Phnom Penh's assistance, the performance of those soldiers will provide crucial guidance as to the worth and progress of Vietnamization.

A good showing clearly will speed our post-May 1 pullouts. Sources in this capital think the prospects for such a showing are promising. They believe that the command structure of Saigon's army is much improved over even mid-1970. All major sectors are said to be under competent top leadership, and middle-echelon officers also are on the upgrade. Some of the notoriously weak South Vietnamese divisions manning the protective ring above Saigon are in better shape, though lack of lower-echelon leaders' seems still serious.

A recent thrust by Saigon's forces against Viet Cong units in the delta's U Minh forest is offered here as evidence of more aggressive leadership in the country's most populous and most-prized area.

South Vietnamese men are now operating some of older airplane gunships and are flying them very selectively. This bar having been erected, U.S. units manning our best fighter-bombers appear destined to remain in and near South Vietnam for a long time. We have taken note that Hanoi now has a "fully sizable" air force composed of Soviet MiGs. We do not intend to leave Saigon vulnerable to these, nor to take away the retaliatory air strike force the President has told Hanoi he will use when he deems a bombing response necessary.

Incidentally, in the light of the recent fury over our air strikes in North Vietnam (partly in reply to attacks on U.S. reconnaissance aircraft), it is interesting to learn that the Iads leave about 65 per cent of their attack very selectively.

BIG DEAL! WHO'S WORTH VOTING FOR?

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Baby-Sit?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it advisable for a person who had tuberculosis 12 years ago and is being regularly checked every six months to be a baby-sitter for two children?

If the answer is no, I would like to know why. I am a middle-aged housewife with a child of my own, aged 5.

I have a feeling that a lot of people in our church circles think twice about including us in social events because of my handicap. They still feel I may give them TB germs. Is this possible as long as I am checked periodically? — S. S.

We've come such a long way in treating TB that there's a tendency to be a bit careless about it sometimes. And yet it remains so prevalent that we can't afford to take any needless chances.

I commend you for doing what every former TB patient ought to do: be checked every six months.

With such regular checks, X ray that shows no changes and a negative sputum test (showing no TB germs in the sputum) you are no hazard to anyone else, including, of course, the children with whom you baby-sit.

As a matter of fact, you are a safer baby-sitter than the average sitter, because there is always the possibility that somebody else may have an active, yet undetected, case of TB. You, on the contrary, know from your regular tests that you do not have germs that can be given to others.

That is a fact well known to doctors who are trying to cut down the number of new cases. TB is not spread by former TB patients whose regular checks from your uncle and knows his condition.

That's the type of question you shouldn't ask me. He should ask his doctor. If his condition really is "excellent" otherwise, his doctor probably will say okay. But the right man to ask is the one who has examined your uncle and knows his condition.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My uncle is 70 and has had high blood pressure for a long time. However, he is in excellent condition so far. He wants to visit the Philippines. Is it all right for him to take the airplane with his high blood pressure condition? — J. R.

That's the type of question you shouldn't ask me. He should ask his doctor. If his condition really is "excellent" otherwise, his doctor probably will say okay. But the right man to ask is the one who has examined your uncle and knows his condition.

Here, they call it the "simplified method" of taking relief applications. Instead of the old detailed questionnaires and wholesale investigations, welfare applicants fill out forms listing merely their "financial needs" and family members.

The welfare department takes them, at their word except for random sample checks, salinated by one welfare official as "a look at about two or three out of every 1,000 cases."

And, of course, these jobs go begging in a town which, like most big American cities, make it ridiculous to lead and live it up.

Here, they call it the "simplified method" of taking relief applications. Instead of the old detailed questionnaires and wholesale investigations, welfare applicants fill out forms listing merely their "financial needs" and family members.

The welfare department takes them, at their word except for random sample checks, salinated by one welfare official as "a look at about two or three out of every 1,000 cases."

"Son, you're looking more and more like your great-grandfather every day!"

1971 Predictions

WASHINGTON — This is the time of year when those of us in the Crystal Ball business must reveal what our vibrations tell us will happen in 1971.

The science of predicting is exact that last year I was only wrong on one prediction out of 155. The prediction I erred on was that J. Edgar Hoover would retire and take the FBI with him.

I have had some strong vibrations for 1971 and here they are:

Jackie Kennedy will come into a windfall of money and will no longer have to make her own clothes.

The Marlboro man will give up smoking, and go back to chewing tobacco.

Three hundred and thirty-five thousand Spiro Agnew watches will be recalled because of a faulty mainspring.

"Khrushchev's Memoirs" will be bought for a film, but in order to guarantee a box-office, the producers will add 32 orgies scenes at the Kremlin showing Stalin as a dirty old man.

Former President Lyndon Baines Johnson's book will be published and will reveal that the person responsible for all his wrong decisions was Jack Valenti.

Tricia Nixon will be married, but Sen Edmund Muskie will not be invited to the wedding.

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will open in September, and at President Nixon's insistence, Guy Lombardo will conduct the orchestra.

David Eisenhower will become the manager of the Washington Senators.

At the personal request of Princess Margaret, Queen Elizabeth will make Lord Snowden high commissioner of the island of Tonga in the Pacific Ocean. Although Princess Margaret will not go with him, she hopes it will stop the rumors that they are not getting along together.

David Frost will ask for political asylum in the United States after being turned down for a knighthood in Great Britain.

Ralph Nader will marry Charlotte Ford and take over her father's family business.

Many priests will discover this year that marriage isn't what it's cracked up to be.

Panty raids will be resumed on the Berkeley campus.

With more people buying police dogs, the crime rate in the country will go down, but there will be a marked increase in the cases of rabies.

Sales of "how to do it" sex books will have peaked early in 1971 and will be replaced in popularity by books on how to make your own wine.

Mayor John Lindsay will make the door prize at the New York Policemen's Benevolent Ball.

ART BUCHWALD

Welfare Reform

WASHINGTON — It would seem safe to bet a modest two bucks that 1971 will be the year of welfare reform. Not much reform, perhaps, but a start on the enormous job of eventually making an honest day's work a touch more attractive to the country's hundreds of thousands of career loafers.

A little-noticed straw in the wind sent up by the dying Old Congress suggests that the 92nd Congress, which will convene later this month, will be welfare-reform minded. White House people point to this straw as boding well for President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan (FAP) while acknowledging that the way ahead remains thorny.

What the Old Congress did was pass a new food stamp authorization to spend $1.75 billion this fiscal year containing a controversial work proviso: "The provision requires able-bodied persons between the ages of 18 and 65 to accept any job offered at a minimum of $1.30 an hour or lose eligibility for stamps. Mothers or other household members caring for children or sick people, students and persons already working at least 30 hours a week are exempted."

The working taxpayer might well wonder what's so great about this and ask why the food stamp law didn't carry such a proviso years ago. His blast would be legitimate.

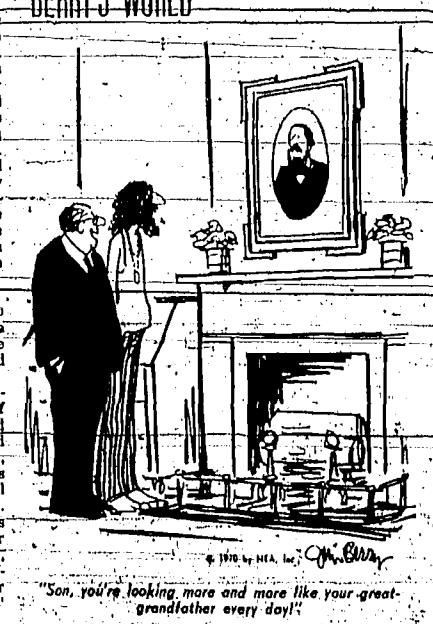

But if the new authorization was not quite a spectacular show-of-statemanship, it did something important. It marked a turn away from the "come-and-get-it" approach to relief. It is a foot in the door for the honest reformers, who insist many priests will discover this year that marriage isn't what it's cracked up to be.

Panty raids will be resumed on the Berkeley campus.

With more people buying police dogs, the crime rate in the country will go down, but there will be a marked increase in the cases of rabies.

BERRY'S WORLD

COMMENT

Population Alert

Christian Science Monitor

The world must awake more widely to the need to limit population growth. Population expert Paul Ehrlich figures it now will take only 35 years for the earth to double its population. The current total for this planet stands at over three billion people.

In the United States it is highly worthwhile that President Nixon has signed into law a congressional bill which, within the next five years, should provide adequate family planning services for all Americans who want them and cannot afford them.

The measure authorizes a $382 million three-year program for funding public and private non-profit organizations in the business of advising people on the means of birth-control. Congress must still vote the dollars, but this will eventually be done, for the bill had strong bipartisan support. (No funds go to support abortion as a means of birth control.)

Last March Congress created a commission on "population growth and the American future." Among the myriad Washington study groups set up recently, this commission's interim report due this spring, is of first-rank importance. The U.S. is not beset by a colossally high birth rate, and indeed recently there has been a decline. But the U.S. is inevitably a world leader in every sort of health and environmental activity. And it can, by example as much as by did programs, help this world of multiplying billions think through a program that will clamp down the population explosion.

What needs particularly to be understood, in the U.S. is that the country's basic prosperity is not really dependent upon the constant pressure of a burgeoning population. If the American population were held at "zero population growth," as some environmentalists urge, this would not need to produce an economic slump. The consumer demands created simply by a rising living standard (or the expectation thereof) should keep industry's wheels whirling quite satisfactorily.

Beyond the U.S. — in the teeming lands of Latin America and the Middle East for instance — there is need for a wide waking-up to the disastrous consequences of unchecked proliferation; hunger and famine, lost economic gains, falling living standards, riot and turmoil. The handwriting is already on the wall. Population curbs should not have to be promulgated by "big brother" techniques. But time is short for creating a truly educated world opinion concerning the menace of the "population bomb."

The Inaugural

Idaho State Journal

The inaugural address of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, while not a model of soaring eloquence, was forward-looking and attuned to concern of Idahoans for preservation of their great state.

Andrus, as he did during his campaign, laid stress upon the "quality of life" here and the need to "rise up and draw the guidelines for the future. We must prepare now, more carefully than ever before, to preserve and improve what is ours and ours alone."

The new governor seemed to be saying that industry will be important in developing our natural resources but in such a way "that our precious lands are not disrupted" — as he did during his campaign — and we will "rise up and draw the guidelines for the future. We must prepare now, more carefully than ever before, to preserve and improve what is ours and ours alone."

Disrupters

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The American Association for the Advancement of Science seems to have its own built-in clique of hecklers and haranguers when it convenes annually. Noisy protesters, the hecklers — are perennially dissatisfied with the proceedings. Given a seat on the platform, they would seize the microphone. Given the mike, they would ruin the show.

The noisiest dissidents — graduate students and juvenile professors — don't do the AAAS much harm. The less noisy do it some good. If a discussion concerns violence, they remind that war is violent. (Who didn't know this?) If a discussion concerns biology, they warn that research can produce chemical warfare.

Stone Age

Salt Lake Tribune

Archaeologists have recovered eight-foot ivory javelins from Stone Age graves in Russia dating back 20,000 to 30,000 years.

The remarkable thing is not that Stone Age men made javelins but that they made straight javelins out of radically curved mammoth tusks. For this reason, the weapons are of as much interest to dentists as to archeologists since ivory is basically the same dentin material that forms the core of human teeth.

Proper address House question

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first but by no means biggest problem, will be what to call him. Congressman Drinan? Father Drinan?

That question hasn't arisen previously, because Robert F. Drinan is the first Roman Catholic priest ever elected to the House of Representatives. The 50-year-old Jesuit, who formerly was dean of Boston College Law School, was elected last November on the Democratic ticket in Massachusetts.

Drinan indicated in an interview with UPI that he himself is far less concerned about what people call him than about "public morality." And this may be an even bigger problem for some of his colleagues — particularly those who sit in the seats of power in Congress.

For when Drinan speaks of public morality, he isn't talking about sex and drinking. He's talking about ending congressional "subservience" to the military and dismantling the system of awarding congressional committee chairmanships solely on the basis of seniority.

"Congress has rubber-stamped the military," he declared. "They've built it into an empire."

He said reform of the seniority system "is an idea whose time has come" and he looks forward to casting his vote with "the good guys" in party caucus later this month to end its existence.

"The good guys," as he is fond of calling them, are the House liberals; the reformers — those, for example, within the Democratic Study Group (DSG), an alliance of House Democrats who band together to support key liberal legislation.

Drinan will associate himself with DSG, which helped him during his campaign, and is ready to join other "alliances" in an effort to lend his voice and his vote to "the common

Graduates declining

BOISE (UPI) — A steady decline in the percentage of Idaho students who enter high school and do not continue on to graduate for one reason or another was noted in statistics released by the Department of Education.

Allen P. Jeffries, director of statistics, said enrollment figures show 81.2 per cent of the ninth graders survived through graduation for the 1970 class, compared with 87.0 per cent for the 1958 class. The increase for survival between the two classes is 13.3 per cent.

He said he was "shocked" during his campaign to meet people, "including municipal officers," who had never even heard about rent supplements or federal programs for the aged.

Aid classes set

TWIN FALLS — Two first-aid classes have been arranged by the Magic Valley Snowmobilers Club and sessions will start this week.

The first will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building, with Harley Hammond instructing. The second will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday, with Phil Cloward instructing. It will also be in the judicial building.

Mrs. Lawrence Lillibridge, club spokesman, said a winter survival course will be presented by the Forest Service when the club meets Feb. 1. On Jan. 31, a ride is planned at 11 a.m. at Diamondfield Jack's snow area, she said.

Appraisal course planned

SHOSHONE — A third real estate appraisal "basic course" sponsored by the North Side Board of Realtors, will begin at 7 p.m. Jan. 22 at the junior high school in Jerome.

The 10-week course will be held for two hours each session. L. James Koutnik, Twin Falls, will be the instructor.

"Let those countries defend themselves, they're rich enough," he said. "We're not going to be the peacekeeper of the world."

The course is offered under the certificate program sponsored by the Idaho Real Estate Commission, in cooperation with the University of Idaho, and the Idaho Association of Realtors, according to Harrell Thorne Shoshone, president of the North Side Board of Realtors. More information may be obtained from the North Side board secretary, Mrs. Bosse Standee, Jerome.

Nixon still seeks draft end

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon still hopes to redeem his pledge to end the military draft. The first installations on the promise should be showing up soon.

Even before the Supreme Court upheld the 18-year-old law, Nixon was balky about providing more money for any defense. The administration regarded abolition of the draft as the most important step it could take to win the youth to the GOP cause.

Establishment of the draft lottery, which at least substitutes the luck of the draw for the whims of local draft board members, was an important advance toward the Nixon goal of relieving young men from the threat of involuntary military service. Another is the reduction of draft calls as the U.S. role in Vietnam is cut back.

To reach his goal of ending the draft, Nixon will need a lot more cooperation from Congress than he got in 1969-70. The big stumbling block is a military pay scale high enough to attract enough volunteers to make conscription unnecessary. There are two main issues involved: One is whether a professional Army would pose a threat to civilian government, showing up soon.

The second is, whether Congress, which has been increasingly balky about providing more money for any defense, would vote a military pay raise.

But there are things some low as 100,000, or 63,500 less well-placed administration officials say would allow the Pentagon to begin switching to the all-volunteer Army in 1972 provided the money is available.

The key is the total callup for the year. Those who see the President's goal as abolition of the draft call in 1971 believe men will be called up this the callup for 1971 may be a month.

THE COULTERS

The Coulters are unique in the sense that they use all varieties of music in presenting their Musical Comedy Shows. The group is led by twin brothers Boyd and Bruce Coulter along with stunning Patty Murphy who blends her voice with those of the twins and adds charm and beauty to the show. Miss Murphy is a very talented performer and has just recently been signed for a leading role in the T.V. special of Little Abner to be filmed in April 1971.

Bruce plays piano, organ and valve trombone while Boyd plays bass and does the lead vocal solos when the twins are not singing together in one of their many two-part-harmony arrangements. The group is very ably backed by Lennie Rose on drums. Lennie is the master of all rhythms as having worked regularly with Ray Coniff before joining the Coulters over a year ago.

Designer dies...

FAMED DESIGNER Coco Chanel died quietly Sunday in her Paris apartment. She is shown here in 1931 photo. Her health had appeared excellent, according to associates in French Chanel fashion and perfume company. She was 87. (UPI)

Fashion's queen dies

PARIS (UPI) — Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel, the queen of haute couture who gave her name and lucky number to the world's most famous perfume, died Sunday night in her suite at the Ritz Hotel. She was 87. A legend for decades, she was active until the end. During the past few weeks she had been busy preparing for her spring show, one of the major events of the fashion season.

Last year "Coco," a Broadway musical starring Katharine Hepburn as Miss Chanel, ran for eight months. But long before, Miss Chanel's name was a household word in many parts of the world due to "Chanel No. 5"—her most-famous perfume. She chose five because it was her lucky number.

"Chanel No. 5" was introduced in 1922. And her last perfume, a delicate scent called "Chanel No. 19," went on sale in 1970.

She was the last of the great women-fashion designers. Fashion experts predicted only Chanel perfume will live on and her salon will close because it

Miss Chanel never married although she had many admirers, including Britain's Duke of Westminster in the '20s. She often stayed aboard his yacht in the harbor of Monte Carlo, but reportedly rejected his marriage proposal and said later: "There are many peers in England, there is only one Coco Chanel in the world."

Born Aug. 19, 1883, at Saumur in the Loire River Valley, she was orphaned at the age of six.

Muskie said Sunday on leaving Tel Aviv after a flyover stay in Israel that he felt the growth of Soviet presence in Egypt had contributed to Egypt's feeling of security and Israel's insecurity.

Nine Arab nations sent representatives to Amman to try to end three days of fighting between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian army troops.

Reports reaching Beirut said the Jordanian government rounded up almost 400 armed Syrian and Iraqi guerrillas Sunday at the Baqaa Palestinian refugee camp on the outskirts of Amman and took them to the Syrian border in army troop carriers.

The Middle East News Agency correspondent in Jordan said the situation remained serious with government troops shelling guerrillas in the El-Purman and Rumelmin districts 15 miles north of Amman.

Israel and American propaganda have tried to interpret our refusal to extend the cease-fire after Feb. 5 as meaning I will declare war Feb. 5, Sadat said. "In doing so they want to influence Western public opinion, which hates war after having suffered its evils."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, a top contender for the Democratic presidential SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon has wrapped up all major decisions on his new deficit federal budget and 1971 program amid reports his administration will announce a cut in business taxes to stimulate the economy.

There was no word on whether the expected plan for recommended businessmen to bigger tax deductions for depreciation would be announced here or by the Treasury Department in Washington. Observers noted, however, that Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler scheduled his usual 11 a.m. briefing for 12:30 p.m. EST (3:30 p.m. EST) after the stock market closes—a move usually tied to big announcements affecting the economy.

A presidential task force has recommended businesses be allowed more use of deductions in taxes for wear and tear on plant equipment, hoping the savings would be poured back into modernization of facilities. It also would be designed to spur employment.

The chief Executive was at his desk at the western White House most of Sunday, working on the State of the Union address; he will deliver to a joint session of Congress Jan. 22.

He also has nearly completed his "expansionary" red ink 1972 fiscal year budget to go to the printer. Economists predict it will hit the $225 billion mark, with the deficit expected to run as high as $10 billion.

This week Nixon will move into the final stage of preparing his program which will include several measures that died in the last Congress.

He has a commitment from congressional leaders for early consideration of his welfare reform program. He also expects to propose a revenue sharing plan to funnel back to the states and cities as much as $2.5 billion during the first year.

Other high-priority items on his agenda were an increase in Social Security benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, and a new national health plan.

The Chief Executive was expected to remain at his Southern California estate until Thursday, when he will head back to Washington to join the Republican national committee assembling to select their new chairman.

Nixon has not yet publicly stated his support of Sen. Robert H. Dole, R-Kan., to succeed Rogers C. B. Morton, his interior-secretary designate.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd say something about a problem I am sure many share.

Grandma loves to knit and crochet, so she gives her handwork to members of the family as Christmas gifts. Unfortunately, she never asks anyone's size, she just "guesses" and some of her creations are a sight. One grandson received a sweater which was unbelievably short! ("I ran out of thread on this one.") A nephew got a scarf which was no less than six yards long! ("Just keep wrapping it around your neck.")

The colors she uses are atrocious and the styles are from 40 years ago.

We wouldn't hurt Grandma's feelings for the world, so we just graciously accept her gifts, and put them away. But the problem arises when Grandma asks the younger children if they ever wear her presents. What should they say?

BAFFLED:

"Not yet, Grandma."

DEAR CONCERNED: As parents of a two-year-old boy, we are somewhat concerned about the following situation: We have a nephew (around 30 years old) who is a homosexual. This isn't just hearsay. He's a fine, talented, very nice person, but he just happens to be a homosexual. Do you think we should ever let him alone with our son? Or would it be dangerous?

CONCERNED

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my mother-in-law. She kisses her dog on the mouth, and then she kisses my children on their mouths! When I objected, she told me that her doctor said it was perfectly all right to eat out of the dog's dish because a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's. Was she lying or is that doctor crazy?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: By some standards, the mouths of healthy dogs are as "clean" as the mouths of healthy humans. However, the practice of kissing children on the mouth should be discouraged whether the kisser has kissed a dog or not.

DEAR ABBY: I want to cry when I read letters from women who complain that they are always "tired," and think their husbands are too demanding when it comes to sex.

I had a husband who loved me dearly, and altho I loved him, too, I am sorry to say that I wasn't as loving and cooperative as I might have been. (I was somewhat "frigid.") I wasn't a "bad" wife, but I was "tired" most of the time, and must have been a great disappointment to my dear and patient husband all those years.

After my husband died, I had a thorough physical checkup and found out that I was terribly anemic and had a long list of other physical deficiencies. No wonder I was always tired! I am now taking medication to correct my condition, and as I told my doctor, if I had done this 30 years ago, I would have made my husband much happier.

Abby, please tell these chronically tired women to seek medical help at once, so they will never have the regrets I now have. Don't use my hometown, as someone might recognize this weeping widow. Sign me... "TOO LATE"

Pantyhose

On the wings of the butterfly trend, Bello-Shurmoor pantyhose came through with flying colors—the bright, elusive colors of butterflies under glass! There's butterfly blue, a fluttering periwinkle, soars through the sky blues and blue violets; pink wing, a marine cocoon color, highlighting lilies, lilacs and roses.

Spring dressing begins with the sleeveless coat for designer Calvin Klein. It is worn buttoned midway, or all the way to the hem, laced through the bodice, or flying in the wind. Klein made these coats in denim, canvas, cotton gabardine and tucking.

Ex-Burley man on missing jet

BURLEY — A search which spread over Texas and parts of Oklahoma has failed to turn up any trace of an F-111A jet carrying a career Air Force officer, formerly of Burley.

United Press International identified one of those on board the aircraft as Lt. Col. Bruce D. Stocks, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Preston Stocks, Burley. Also on board was Maj. Billy G. Gentry, Fort Worth, Texas.

The plane, the Air Force model of the controversial swing wing jet, was on an acceptance flight Friday when it failed to return to Cargowall Air Force Base, N.M. A spokesman for General Dynamics at Fort Worth, designers and builders of the aircraft, said about 90 planes searched Sunday for the missing jet. The plane began its test run Friday morning and had enough fuel to last until 4:15 p.m.

Lt. Col. Stocks was graduated from Burley High School in 1950 and received a B.S. degree in 1964 from Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He and his wife, Carol, have four children.

Cruisers of the F-111 have twice forced grounding of the plane.

SHOSHONE — Shoshone youths who wish to join a ski club may contact Reid Newby, for complete information.

The club has special bus rates which make it cheaper for members than if an unorganized group were to charter a bus for journeys.

Jim Pagong, club president, said trips are planned to Soldier Mountain Ski area north of Fairfield.

A school bus is used for transportation, leaving at 8 a.m.

BALES OF STRAW were placed in front of businesses in Oakley Sunday to keep flood waters from running into the stores. LePage Layton, Hurley, is shown here viewing precautions made during the flood.

Runoff water floods Oakley

By GEORGIA LAYTON

Times-News Correspondent

OAKLEY — Runoff water which hit the small city of Oakley Sunday, flooding basements and streets, was subsiding Monday and residents still were working to pump water from basements and by Monday morning most had been pumped out. The result of rain and thawing is out.

Bales of straw and sandbags were piled in front of businesses in an attempt to stop water from running into the buildings.

Residents attempted to dig drainage ditches with a back hoe Sunday, but the equipment was unable to dig into the frozen ground. Water also did not penetrate the frozen earth and ran swiftly on top of the hard packed base.

Lawns throughout Oakley were flooded and it was reported the Oakley City Park

resembled a "square lake."

Aren residents said Sunday's flood brought the most water to Oakley since a cloud burst in the summer of either 1916 or 1917.

Roads in the area also were flooded Sunday and some remained in bad condition.

Monday water was running

Sunday down Highway 27 north of Oakley for about two and one half miles. The water was reported to be low enough to drive through, but some cars were stalled from trying to travel too fast.

Highway 77 between Albion and the Conifer Creek Store was being plowed Sunday to remove debris. The condition of the road, which leads to Pomeroy, skid area, forced closure of the resort Saturday and Sunday.

Highway 30 south was still closed Monday morning between Malta and Strevell because portions of the road are washed out. Interstate 80N remained open Sunday, but travelers were being stopped and warned to drive with extra caution because of a foot of snow

now on the road in the Meadow

Creek area, about 20 miles southeast of Cotter Port of Entry.

Wills' homes said

of 'high quality'

TWIN FALLS — Bob Wills of family income and number of homes in the Twin Falls area for low-income families said today that his homes are built to the same high-quality standards as are "regular" homes.

Wills, referring to a report from Washington, D.C., that low-income homes have reportedly been built to lower standards in some areas of the country, said that he has received "many good comments" from buyers of his homes about quality of construction.

The Washington report indicated that Federal Housing Administration (FHA) home appraisers were allegedly willing to endorse faulty construction of low-income housing. Wills said this is not the case in his homes, and that there could be no question about the appraisals, since the construction is all of standard quality.

"Of course, we can't offer as much 'gingerbread' — extra luxuries — in low-income housing as we can in regular dwellings, but the construction is sound," Wills said.

Bob Coulam, Twin Falls city building inspector, endorsed Wills' comments. Coulam inspects all new housing projects, and he said he has found no indication of below-standard construction in any of Wills' homes.

Under the federally subsidized "238" program, Wills explained, low-income families can qualify to purchase a new home at a lower monthly payment than standard mortgage contracts require. The difference in cost is made up by federal funds.

Families must qualify under two allied standards — total

Wills must submit complete plans and cost estimate to the FHA office in Boise, including address, lot-size and all other details. The FHA will then approve the home or series of homes, and send an appraiser to Twin Falls to inspect the lot and neighborhood.

The homes must be built to strict FHA standards, and must be inspected by the city inspector before completion. The FHA is "cutting down on the gingerbread," Wills said; "no carpeting" is required in bedrooms at the present; "and they're questioning whether to allow carpeting" in the living room and hall.

The government also provides funds for other low-cost housing projects, including the "238" program for multiple-unit housing.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit-taking turned the stock market lower after more than three hours Monday, although selected issues benefited from a report that the administration plans to give businesses more liberal tax deductions for depreciation of equipment.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy and Paul W. McCraken, President Nixon's top economic adviser, attended a conference for late in the day apparently to discuss the new plan.

Near 1:15 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average was off $3.90 at 833.11; Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.69 pt., 91.50; and declines were leading advances, 645 to 627 on 1,391 issues on the tape.

A three-hour volume of 9,510,000 shares was up from 8,860,000 shares traded at the comparable period Friday.

Among the day's most active issues were Sperry Rand off 4% on 238,800 shares, American Airlines down 1% on 265,900 shares, Panhandle Eastern Corp. 1/4 lower on 171,300 shares, Occidental Petroleum 1/4 lower on 118,000 shares, and Federal National Mortgage 1/4 lower on 117,600 shares.

North romps 39-2 over South in American Bowl

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Leo Hayden of Ohio State and Paul Staroba of Michigan scored two touchdowns each and the North defense blunted the South offense as the North roared to a 39-2 victory in the American Bowl All-Star football game Sunday.

A crowd of 12,000 watched the final collegiate game of the season.

Staroba, who also handled the North's punting with a 41.7 yard average, caught two coffin-corner touchdown passes, one a 15-yarder from Frank Harris of Boston College and the other a 17-yarder from Don Moorhead of Michigan.

Hayden's scores came on runs of three and four yards. Harris added another North

Cal loses track title on Curtis' ineligibility

HOUSTON (UPI)—The University of California was stripped of its 1970 track and field championship by the NCAA Sunday because freshman sprinter Isaac Curtis of Los Angeles was ineligible.

Curtis helped California to 22 of its 40 points by finishing second in the 100, fourth in the 200 and running a leg of the winning 440-yard relay team in the outdoor championships at Drake University June 18-20. The 22 points were subtracted from California to drop them to a tie for 10th with Bowling Green with 18 points.

With California out, the team championship resulted in a three-way tie between Kansas, Oregon and Brigham Young with 35 points each.

Isaac, also a halfback on the football team last fall, was ruled ineligible because California officials failed to predict his scholastic average before he entered school. Under NCAA regulations, the school cannot enroll an athlete unless he can be predicted to make 1.0 on a scale in which 4.0 is straight-A.

There was no prediction made for Isaac, but California officials met him at the track meet as an eligible runner.

He said he did not know what would be done about Isaac playing football this fall. Normally, an athlete is ineligible to participate in all NCAA sports for one year after he competes when he is not eligible.

When California notified officials last July that Curtis did not have a predicted grade point average, Nolina said NCAA officers advised them that a player usually is not eligible for sports the next year, but did not say Curtis would not play football.

He said any action on forfeiture of football games would be up to the Pacific Coast Conference. Curtis apparently made the required 1.6 average his freshman year or at least made satisfactory progress toward the requirement so he could fulfill the requirement to play football, Nolina said.

In other action, the NCAA:

Selected San Francisco for the 1974 convention and Washington for the 1975 convention.

Reinstated Villanova as the 1970 cross country champion when Oregon, in effect, dropped its appeal. Oregon originally won, but a review of movie showed Villanova's Les Nagy from 6th to 2nd to give Villanova a one-point victory.

Admitted Indiana State University of Evansville and Merriam Community College of St. Louis as associate members of the NCAA.

Signed a three-year contract with the Orange Bowl to hold the semifinals and finals of the NCAA soccer tournament in Miami during the week before the Orange Bowl game.

Set the 1972 college division football championships for June 13-16 at William & Mary at Williamsburg, Mass.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Phoenix made 40 of 51 chances from the free throw line and rode that advantage to a 116-105 victory over Atlanta Sunday night.

The win snapped a two-game losing streak for the Suns and extended Atlanta's winless string to five games.

Pat Sims was the Phoenix ringleader at the foul line. He hit 17 of 17 chances, setting a new Atlanta Coliseum record.

The two teams also set a coliseum record for three throws made in a quarter, 15-15. Others in the top included Jerry Johnson of Pocatello, 15-17; Jack Hatt of Boise, 16-16; Carl Cook of Idaho Falls, 15-16; Phil Brasseur of Pocatello, 15-17; and Jerry Goodwin of Blackfoot, 15-15.

Third place paid $152.45 and fourth $108.50.

Next month's ISBA Tournament will be held in Idaho Falls.

Study spaces quakes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A geologist has worked out a set of "recurrence-curves" that suggests another great earthquake may occur along California's San Andreas fault in the next three or four decades.

He made it clear, however, that his figure for time intervals between quakes "should be considered only estimates or approximations."

The curves were calculated by Dr. Robert Wallace of the Geological Survey's National Center for Earthquake Research at Menlo Park, Calif. They deal with earthquakes greater than 5 on the Richter scale.

They suggest that the interval between two successive magnitude 6 quakes somewhere along the fault could be five years. For magnitude 7 quakes the interval might be 15 years, for magnitude 8 about 100 years.

The 1906 San Francisco quake was about 8.2 on the Richter scale, the 1933 Long Beach, Calif., quake, 6.3, the 1964 Alaska earthquake 8.5, and the 1970 Peru quake 7.7.

The San Andreas fault, a notorious generator of earthquakes, runs through San Francisco. It is a fracture in the earth's crust along which two parts of the crust have slipped with respect to each other. It is 600 miles or more long and several miles deep. It is the main stem of a large network of faults.

Geologists have traced its behavior back 25 million years. "There is an obvious pattern of consistency of slipping and movement along the fault over the past 25 million years," Wallace said, "and there is no reason to expect a sudden change in the average rate that has characterized this activity in the past."

If Wallace's time intervals were precise, instead of being merely approximations, California could expect somewhere along the San Andreas fault another earthquake around 2066 as great as the San Francisco shocker of 1906.

Democrat rules panel yields 3 prospects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democrats have three potential presidential candidates who were members of the commission that wrote the rules for choosing delegates to the 1972 national convention.

The three are Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Harold E. Hughes of Iowa and Birch Bayh of Indiana.

McGovern has resigned chairman of the commission and will leave the commission completely next month. Bayh and Hughes are horses of a darker hue, and all three are rated far behind Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine in the race for the Democratic nomination.

In an effort to close the gap, McGovern is planning to make his formal announcement of candidacy this month. His announcement is coming 10 to 12 months earlier than is suggested by normal timetable.

As a "late starter" who inherited some of the support of Robert F. Kennedy, McGovern finished a weak third in 1968 on the first ballot nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey.

News Of Servicemen

FILER — Airman Glenn E. Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo E. Meyer, Route 2, Filer, has graduated at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., from the technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics.

Airman Meyer, who was trained to repair jet fighters, is returning to his Idaho Air National Guard unit at Boise. He is a 1970 graduate of Filer High School.

TWIN FALLS — Navy Seaman apprentice Gary D. Ochsner Jr., 435 Second Ave. W., has returned to his homeport of Norfolk, Va., after a nine-month deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. America.

Navy Petty Officer 3c. Raymond E. Joslin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Joslin, Route 1, Twin Falls, has returned to his homeport of Norfolk, Va., after deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. America.

TWIN FALLS — Roger L. Greenup, husband of Catherine Greenup, Twin Falls, enlisted in the U.S. Army, reports Sgt. Hal Kreps. He is taking basic training at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Others enlisting were Robert S. Wright III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wright Jr.,

The riotous conduct at that convention led to the creation of two reform commissions—one on convention procedure and the other on delegate selection.

McGovern's commission circulated to state party officials just winter 18 guidelines for the selection of delegates. He said his intention was to keep the 1972 convention from appearing like a boss-controlled assembly of power brokers.

It is sometimes said that a friendly politician with influence is a party leader and that an unfriendly one is a boss. Whether they be statesmen or bosses, these party figures presume they are better qualified than inexperienced and independent delegates to decide what presidential candidate has the best chance of winning and of helping them win with their state tickets.

The commission's guidelines failed to produce what seemed to be a predictable protest against the proposed changes.

One proposal called for women, young people and minority group representatives to be delegates "in reasonable relationship to their proportion of the population of the state.

In an April report, the commission found that only 13 per cent of the 1968 national convention delegates were women, only 5 per cent were black and only 4 per cent were under 30.

Another guideline calls for representing minority support for a presidential candidate in local and statewide procedures leading to the selection of national convention delegates. Thus, a candidate backed by only 20 per cent of the Democrats in a state should get 20 per cent of the convention votes from that state.

Where the selection of delegates is governed by state law, state party organizations are required to make "all feasible efforts" to get the law amended to comply with the guidelines.
